

The Two Noble Kinsmen.

Ly bliftring fore the visitating Sunne,
And were good Kings, when living.

Thef. It is true, and I will give you comfort,
To give your dead Lords graves:

1. Qu. And that worke presents it selfe to'th doing;
New twill take forme, the heates are gone to morrow.

Then, bootles toyle must recompence it selfe,
With it's owne sweat; Now he's secure,
Not dreames, we stand before your puiflance
Wrinching our holy begging in our eyes
To make petition cleere.

2. Qu. Now you may take him,
Drunke with his victory.

3. Qu. And his Army full

How to draw out fit to this enterprife,
The prim't for this proceeding, and the number
To carry such a businesse, forth and levy
Our worthiest Instruments, whilst we despatch
This grand act of our life, this daring deede
Of Fate in wedlocke.

1. Qu. Dowagers, take hands
Let us be Widdowes to our woes, delay
Commends us to a famishing hope.

All. Farewell.

2. Qu. We come unseasonably: But when could greefe
Cull forth as unpanged judgement can, fit't time
For best solicitation.

Thef. Why good Ladies,
This is a service, whereto I am going,
Greater then any was; it more imports me
Then all the actions that I have foregone,
Or futurely can cope.
